Cooper and directed by Stevie Walker-Webb. Following its initial run in Public Studio in 2018, AIN'T NO MO' began previews on Tuesday, March 12 in The Public's LuEsther Hall, and had its official press opening on Wednesday, March 27. In its second and final extension week, this vital new American play will now run through Sunday, May 5.

AIN'T NO MO' is a vibrant satirical odyssey portraying the great exodus of black Americans out of a country plagued with injustice. In a kaleidoscope of scenes of the moments before, during, and after this outrageous departure, Jordan E. Cooper's extraordinary new work explores the value of black lives in a country hurtling away from the promise of a black president.

The new play features scenic design by Kimie Nishikawa; costume design by Montana Levi Blanco; lighting design by Adam Honoré; sound design by Emily Auciello; and hair, wig, and make-up design by Cookie Jordan.

"Big laughs and no-you-didn't surprises. Nothing less than a spiritual portrait of black American life right now. Thrilling, shrewd, devastating and deep."
– Jesse Green, The New York Times

"Fierce and very funny. Digs in its heels and its teeth, balancing explosive playfulness with focused attack. Jordan E. Cooper turns in a gloriously funny, sharp-as-acrylic-nails performance!"
